New FAQ questions!	6.10.11
Smart Futures announces Virtual Mentors	6.07.11

1. The template for the dashboard is slightly altered. Rather than using a tab format for the highest navigation, we are using side tabs, which work the same way. Visually, it creates a nice clean column view.

That way, for the Mentee section, there are no competing tab levels.

2. The section that the user is in is repeated at the top left.

3. The "To-do and Updates" section shows activity for all current mentees in reverse chronological order. Anything that is new since last log-in should be shown. User can click to see more. Each line is clickable, taking the user straight to the section to complete the item. Maybe once it's complete it gets a check box? Current mentee info is available going back. Once a mentee becomes a past, that info for this section is cleared.

4. Mentorship Stats include last sign-in. Consider also having a color code next to it (green means you've signed in in the past week and taken some action.) This is also where active/in-active status can be listed and linked to change. Also shows list of current mentors.

5. News from Smart Futures shares the updates that are sent via email.
